WEST LIBERTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, AUG. 4, 1955

7c A COPY — $3 A YEAR

JUDGE BERT T. COMBS, Eastern Kentucky's own candidate for Governor, was greeted at West Liberty by one of the largest crowds ever to attend a political speaking in Morgan county. News-papemen estimated the crowd at between 4,000 and 5,000. This view shows the central portion of the crowd assembled on Main street in front of the court house. Judge Combs may be seen in lower left corner speaking with his hat on in the intense sunshine.

COMBS GREETED BY 4-5,000 HERE

Touring his native Eastern Kentucky hills last Saturday, Judge Bert T. Combs was greeted by thousands of people at every stop he made in half a dozen county seat towns. At West Liberty, a crowd estimated at between 4,000 and 5,000 stood in a blazing sun to hear their candidate of the hills outline his program for "continued progress in Kentucky."

He spoke six times that day—at Hindman, Jackson, Campton, West Liberty, Frenchburg and Owingsville. Members of his party said their biggest crowd was at Hindman where Combs was introduced by a minister, Congressman Carl D. Perkins of the Seventh district was traveling with Combs and spoke briefly at Hindman and Campton. Judge John A. Keck of Sandy Hook met Combs at Campton and spoke to the crowd there briefly before Combs. Judge Keck introduced Combs at West Liberty. Though Combs was traveling an hour and a half late due to a traffic jam at Hindman, the crowd in West Liberty waited patiently until the candidate arrived. Many people described the crowd here as the largest ever to assemble at a political speaking.

Combs spoke from an improvised rostrum in front of the court house, and his listeners spread out over the courthouse grounds.

LOCALS LOSE 4-3 IN 11 INNINGS AT OWINGSVILLE

See-sawing from second to third place in the Bluegrass League standings, the West Liberty nine fell once again into third place—just a half game behind second place Irvine, as they lost out in a 11-inning thriller at Owingsville Sunday by a slim 4-3 margin.

Shorty Jamerson's single to right with two outs and the bases loaded in the last half of the 11th, broke the tight 3-3 pitching duel between West Liberty's Steve Hamilton and Owingsville's Hoover Rogers and accounted for the local's fifth loss against seven victories.

The win gave the loop leaders, Owingsville, a 9 won, 3 lost slate as they scored a 1-run victory over hapless Mt. Sterling to give them an 8 and 5 record.

Hamilton himself led the locals in this commendable effort, banging out 3 singles in 6 trips to the plate. Nickell, Brown and Caudill each chipped in with two hits apiece.

Jack Carter headed Owingsville's six hit attack with a home run and a single in five tries.

Owingsville stroled off to an early lead in the contest, as they combined two hits with two hits with two walks and a hit batsman in the opening frame to tally two runs and make it 2-1 after the first inning. West Liberty scored an opening inning run on two walks and a single.

The local nine took the lead in the third frame as they bunched three hits with two walks and an Owingsville error to tally two more markers and make it 3-2 after three innings.

Jack Carter tied the count at 3-all in the fifth with a fluke home run to left field. The hit which should have been a single turned out to be a four base blow when it trickled jumped a small brick barrier in left field and eluded the West Liberty left fielder who was all set to play the rebound. The contest proceeded in 3-3 fashion until the 11th, when Jamerson broke it up.

West Liberty will come home Sunday for a game with Mt. Sterling.

Ball Club Seeking Talent For Variety Show in W. Liberty

The West Liberty Bluegrass League baseball team will sponsor a home talent variety show in the near future to raise funds to balance the team's budget for the year.

Manager Clarence Black announced this week that he would like for all persons who have some talent and desire to take part in the show to list their name and the type of act they perform with himself or Merle Nickell or Paul Shipley.

The show, according to plans, will consist of hillbilly and popular music, comedy skits, dances, etc.

BARKLEY SPEAKS FOR JUDGE COMBS

Congress having adjourned on Wednesday morning, Kentucky Senators Alben W. Barkley and Earle C. Clements returned to the state the same day and commenced campaigning actively for Judge Bert T. Combs for Governor.

Senator Barkley was scheduled to speak over WHAS-TV in Louisville tonight (Thursday) at 8 eastern standard time and his speech was to be carried on radio from Huntington WSAB simultaneously and over a number of other stations.

Friday night Barkley is to speak in his hometown in Paducah and his speech will be carried over a radio network.

Barkley publicly endorsed Judge Combs for Governor July 14 but he waited until Congress adjourned before taking the stump for him.

Senator Clements in a television address at Louisville Wednesday night accused Chandler of conducting a campaign of "falsehoods."

He accused Chandler of being greedy and said the candidate would plunge the state into needless turmoil in the event of his election.

SHOOTING MATCH SET

The Morgan County Fish and Game Club will conduct another shooting match at the Elkfork bridge at Boyd Bay's place Sunday, Aug. 14. Matches will be held in pistol, rifle and skeet shooting and prizes will be awarded winners.

LYKINS REUNION OFF

The reunion of the family of Sam Henry Lykins which is usually held the first week in August, will not be held this year due to the illness of Mrs. S. H. Lykins who is a patient in Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, following a heart attack.

all. I think maybe it belongs to John Young Brown, anyway he helped pack it.

Yes, just trust "old Doc Keck." He's the greatest fixer-upper around here. He'll cure any bad case of Chandleritis, sing you a lullaby, put you to bed and tuck you in. That's what he will do at Crockett in the forgotten side of the county. I think he'll be singing the current hit tune, "I'd Do Anything For You."

Yep, he'll roll up his sleeves and get right to work on you there. He'll tell them what an awful meany Happy is and what lies he is telling the people and how that is the worst thing that could be wrong with a man; but he won't say anything about shrinking tobacco acreage (he sports acres of acreage doesn't seem to shrink), or how you get cut while others get raised. You may draw your own conclusions why.

He won't say anything about the gigantic effort to buy Bert Combs by majority by the highway department here in Morgan county.

While they shout that "Happy" is conducting a campaign of lies and hypocrisy just take a look at the kind they conduct. Do you know of one more vicious or contemptible than the poorly disguised attempt at wholesale bribery. You the voter know this is true. You don't have to go far to know this for yourself.

Was a people who trust in right ever handed a better reason for voting against a faction than this? I firmly believe that the people of Morgan county are a people that refuse to live by "bread alone" and that aroused by a righteous indignation at those who hold their integrity and intelligence in such contempt as to think that they will bribe a majority for Bert Combs, that they will descend on the polls election day with such an avalanche of reputation as to make the next administration think that tries to bribe or browbeat its way to victory.

This I know to be true that "Happy" Chandler has a majority in sentiment in this county. I don't believe that any sweet talking, bullying is going to stop the expression of it next Saturday.

Use your courage. Vote your sentiment and no one can object to that.

From a voter who can't speak out, but who gags at the disgraceful tactics being used.

Campaign Committee for Chandler.

UNCLE IS ARRESTED AFTER MAN'S BODY IS FOUND FRIDAY

The badly decomposed body of a man was found last Friday by Lester Wheeler and his brother near the mouth of Blackwater, while they were digging gensing.

The dead man was identified as Jay Roberson, 48, who was last seen July 20th. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Roberson of Bonny. The body was in an inaccessible place in cliffs in a heavy wooded section of Blackwater.

Sheriff Aaron Lykins, Deputy Coroner Sonny Rose and others had to walk more than two miles and carry the body out. There was a large hole in the back of Roberson's head and another in his shoulder.

The body was buried in the Roberson cemetery on Long Branch under direction of West Liberty Funeral Home.

Then on Tuesday of this week the body was exhumed for further examination. And investigation is under way now into the murder.

Leonard Roberson, an uncle of the dead man, was arrested Wednesday evening by Sheriff Aaron Lykins, Deputy Cecil Dalton and State Detective Murvel Caudill of Morehead. He was lodged in West Liberty without bond for further investigation.

ED COMBS MAKES A STATEMENT

West Liberty, Ky.
Aug. 1, 1955

To My Friends In Morgan County:

Rumors have reached me that a number of my friends in the county have expressed for Bert Combs for Governor being under the impression that they would be doing me a favor. But nothing could be farther from the truth than this. I am one hundred percent for Happy Chandler, a man who will right the wrongs and end the corruptions that have existed in Frankfort and West Liberty for the past eight years.

I worked for the highway department for 28 years. My work was satisfactory in every way, yet when I refused to support the candidacy of a man for county office here whom I deemed unworthy of the office I was fired from my job. Is this the kind of government we want? Is this fair to any man just because he refuses to support one of their hand-picked candidates?

I believe Chandler has this race won but between now and election day they will tell anything to make a vote for their hand-picked boss ridden monopoly controlled candidate Bert Combs. They see their little clique about to fall. The West Liberty clique is badly shaken like Sodom and Gomorrah, their sins have found them out and they will tell anything or do anything to try to stay in power another four years.

In closing I want to ask you friends wherever they may be to help us elect Happy Chandler Governor and let's have four years of honest government in the state and county.

Your friend,
ED COMBS

FINAL PLEA OF LYNN B. WELLS FOR REPRESENTATIVE

TO THE VOTERS OF MORGAN AND WOLFE COUNTIES.

I want you to know that I appreciate the manner in which you have accepted my candidacy for STATE REPRESENTATIVE, and I feel assured that you are going to do the job for me with a nice majority.

The only disappointment I have is that I have not had an opportunity to see each of you in person and shake your hand and tell you that I wanted your vote and support.

Keep the good fight up in my behalf and you will return me the winner on Saturday August 6, 1955. Be sure to go to the election and vote your sentiments. I am.

Your Friend and Neighbor
Lynn B. Wells, Atty.

REVIVAL AT CHURCH OF GOD

Sunday night, Aug. 7, a revival begins at the Church of God on Glen avenue. Rev. Lou Allen is the evangelist. He comes from Knoxville, Tenn., and is a consecrated man of God with a pentecostal message and a testimony concerning how God healed his body. Good singing and good preaching each night and a special welcome invitation is extended to everyone.

CHURCH DINNER SUNDAY

The Banks Circle of the Christian church will serve a dinner after morning services Sunday in the Fellowship Room of the church. Plates will be $1 for adults and 50c for children.

AN APPEAL BY C. K. STACY

MY FRIENDS OF MORGAN COUNTY:

Speaking in behalf of Happy Chandler in West Liberty Wednesday night, J. B. Wells, Mayor of Paintsville, bitterly denounced me and vilified members of my family. He tried desperately hard to create hatred and to prejudice the people against me. With oratory reeking with insincerity, he told his listeners that I was dishonest. It is noted that the charges were made so late that Mr. Wells thought they could not be answered before the election.

This is the first time I ever made this kind of an appeal to my friends. For 35 years I have been connected with the Bank. Have you ever known or ever heard of my being dishonest? If Mr. J. B. Wells will show where I have misappropriated a single penny, then I will repay it four-fold.

My friends, you know my record. For 35 years I have used every ounce of my being to help the farmers. During the depression, you know that I extended credit so that you could save your farm. I have cooperated with the County Agent and all agricultural agencies in helping to better the conditions of our farmers.

In your drives to raise money for churches, I need not remind you that through the bank and personally, I gave generously. There has never come a needy person to me that I wasn't glad to help.

I love Morgan County and its people. That is why I have spent almost every hour of every day for 35 years within the county. I am happy to see our county progress to become one of the leading mountain counties. I give thanks for the opportunity to do my bit in helping the county. Consider with me briefly a few of the advancements made in recent years.

Compare the roads of Morgan County today with those of eight years ago. Whether it is appreciated or not, I have worked night and day to try to build up our road system.

You will remember that it was not so long ago we did not have a decent school building in the county. Now we have some nice buildings and with the support of the Minimum Foundation Program by Bert Combs, we will have more and better school buildings.

I have my faults, but accusations hurled at me by Wells were vicious lies and without foundation. If being true to my friends is a fault, then I must plead guilty. If being loyal to the Democratic party is a fault, again I must plead guilty. If being courteous to my enemies and honest with everyone are wrong, I am guilty. I have endeavored to create a spirit of good will with everyone I meet and to extend a warm hand of friendship.

Mayor Wells accused me of having more tobacco base than I was supposed to have and implied that I had gotten it illegally. Once and for all let me set him straight. My tobacco base is 8 acres and 89 100 and that includes .6 owned by my wife and all that she owns. This includes every tenth of tobacco base I own individually or in partnership and is scattered over 6 tracts of land.

I invite and urge Mr. Wells or any one else interested to look at the record in the Morgan County ASC office and I have requested the personnel in that office to disclose to anyone interested what my tobacco base is. I have taken a cut in my allotment every time some one else has. I have never tried to use any influence to keep from getting a cut or to get my base increased. The tobacco program is under the Federal Government. I have no means to exert influence in that Department, and I would not if I could. Neither will Mr. Combs or Mr. Chandler be able to dictate the policies of the tobacco program. The Governor of Kentucky has nothing to do with the Department in any way whatsoever.

Some of my good friends are for Happy Chandler and some of them heard Wells' unfounded statements. I appeal to my friends to tell Mayor Wells that his coming into Morgan County and publicly ridiculing one of your fellow citizens, is not appreciated. You can do that by voting for Bert Combs. You have not heard of Mr. Combs trying to create distrust and discord during his campaign, and his example is being followed by his supporters.

Regardless of the outcome of this election, I shall continue to serve the people of Morgan County and back every program that will be for your best interest.

Sincerely yours,

C. K. Stacy

Electric cooking proved cooler *

in impartial government tests

actually uses
 $\frac{1}{2}$  as much heat
as other methods!

Here's why electric ranges
are so much cooler:

Pan is in direct contact with electric cooking unit. Practically all the heat goes into the food. Electric ranges have no pilot lights that add heat day and night. Nor does an electric cooking unit produce water vapor.

COOKING WITH FLAME

With flame burner, some heat goes into food; the rest goes into kitchen air. It takes about twice as much heat to do the same cooking job. And burning fuel produces water vapor, increasing humidity which adds to your discomfort.

KENTUCKY
POWER COMPANY

The cooling effect of melting 3620 lbs. of ice every 24 hours is yours when you switch from flame-type cooking to a modern electric range! Tests at the U. S. Government Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics reveal that there is actually that much difference in the amount of heat the two types of ranges throw into your kitchen! Here are test figures showing how much heat the two types use to do the same cooking job:

- (Standard Heat Units)
- Heat units from the flame burning ranges 29,980
  - Heat units from electric ranges 15,026
  - Extra heat units from flame-type ranges 14,954

Flame ranges put nearly twice as much heat—excess heat—into your kitchen. You can be 8 to 16 degrees cooler with electric cooking!

* Reported in Technical Bulletin No. 1073, October 1953, Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. The British Thermal Unit (Btu) was used as the standard heat unit for these tests and both types of cooking were measured by the same standard.

AIR FORCE SECRETARY RESIGNS; CHANDLER CASE SIMILAR

The resignation of Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbot has a special meaning for Kentuckians. With obvious relief, President Eisenhower accepted the resignation after it was disclosed that Mr. Talbot had accepted money, while holding public office, from a private firm with which he had a contract. Here in Kentucky

Happy Chandler, who also accepted money under contract with a private firm while holding public office, is asking people to elect him governor.

It should matter greatly to Kentuckians that Mr. Chandler cannot justly and has never attempted to explain, the unusual contract under which, as a United States senator, he took money from the United Wholesale Liquor Company of Lexington. He says that the money he took was in the form of "attorney fees," as though that would excuse his representing a liquor firm while in the Senate, and at a time when the alcohol and control of whiskey black-marketing were federal concerns. But his contract with the liquor company was not a lawyer's contract. He did not receive a regular fee. He received (for what services will not explain) a percentage of the gross sales of the company. Why? He will not say.

This is not the only case in which Happy Chandler has taken things from firms interested in government regulations while he was in government office. It was shortly after he went to the Senate that a contractor, who received a government contract to build the Charleston Ordnance plant, built Happy Chandler a swimming pool. For what services? And we too assume that war contractors are just great-hearted by nature, tendering swimming pools around on whom? Chandler has never explained, even as he has never explained why the Lexington liquor people were willing to give him a percentage of their profits.

Can any Kentuckian support such conduct? Are we, in Kentucky, willing to accept a standard of morality lower than that in Washington? —Courier-Journal.

Roads Built In Morgan Equal 43% Of County's Assessed Evaluation

Assessed evaluation of all property in Morgan county for 1955 is $4,693,090.

During the past 7½ years the State has built by contract, or is building, highways in Morgan county that cost $2,038,257.

Thus, the State during the administrations of Earle C. Clements and Lawrence Wetherby has built by contract roads in Morgan that equal 43½% of the county's taxable evaluation.

This has been accomplished without any additional tax burden on Morgan counties except the 2-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax. But Morgan counties, it is obvious, paid only a small fraction of this. The money came from richer and denser populated areas that already had received good roads before the rural road building program of Clements was started.

The list of contract roads built in Morgan during the past 7½ years, length of each, type of construction, and the contract cost is given hereunder:

Index-Hazel Green, 9.582 miles, bituminous road mix, $28,191.57

FLOYD 4-H SITE NOT SUITABLE

Officers of the North Eastern Kentucky 4-H Camp, Inc. met August 2 at Flomingsburg. The counties represented were Pike, Johnson, Magoffin, Floyd, Martin, Gretna, Morgan, Rowan, Fleming, Mason, Nicholas, Bath, Lewis, Lawrence, Carter, Robertson and Menifee.

Report of the final engineering of camp evaluation committee was read by Mrs. Betty Powers, home agent of Johnson county. The committee said there were no natural shade trees on the proposed site at Dewey Lake. It was brought out that the proposed bridge to get to the best site at Dewey Lake was too expensive and a plan was made to build two miles of road.

Morgan county was represented by Mrs. Hazel Steele of Station and Rev. J. Ivan Nevius, pastor of West Liberty Christian church. Both Rev. Nevius and Mrs. Steele made outstanding talks during the 35 people present to think of the children and the many years the camp would be in existence and to make some attempt to get a good site regardless of where the camp was located. Others speaking along the same line were Mr. King, county agent of Carter county, who had his training in Morgan county, and has been in extension work for years; Rev. Benson, Baptist minister of Menifee county; Mr. Whitehouse, 4-H worker in Kentucky; R. H. Liebert and Helen M. White, state workers.

A motion was made and seconded that the planning group take under consideration the idea of inviting four out-of-state professional leaders to meet with the county representatives to go over every proposed site. The motion carried 3-0. The vote from Morgan county was in favor of the motion, representing thinking of the Morgan County 4-H Council and requests from parents and other interested persons in Morgan county. A roll call was taken to see what possible sites were available. Fleming and Robertson counties proposed sites but said neither site was in these counties but would not reveal their location.

Greenup county withdrew the proposed site of Green-Bo Lane. The Morgan county group presented the incorporation papers and made the report for Major Gardner, local attorney, who prepared the incorporation papers free of charge for the group. It was reported it would cost a total of $17 for the incorporation to be carried out. A vote was made that each county contribute $1 toward this fund.

The following officers were elected: President, J. H. Hall, Johnson county; vice president, C. R. Benson, Menifee county; second vice president, Robert D. Dwyer, Greenup county; secretary, Major Gardner, Morgan county; and treasurer, John Burtram, Jr., Morgan county.

AUNT JESTON HAS VISITORS
Mrs. Bert Combs of Lexington and Pearl R. R. and State Treasurer Pearl R. R. of Lexington, Mrs. Herbert Wells, Mrs. Henry Carter of West Liberty visited her son, J. M. Gevedon on Grassy Lake Saturday, Aunt Jeston is 103½ years old and still enjoys visits from her friends.

COMBS VICTORY BY 70,000 PREDICTED

TO THE PEOPLE OF MORGAN COUNTY:

The campaign is coming to a close and it is important that we have a man interested in the mountains for Governor. Bert Combs is a mountain man and will have our interest at heart. The Chandler forces have talked about and smeared everybody that is for Bert Combs. They have not talked about issues but about people who have nothing to do with the campaign.

I do not believe that our people in Morgan appreciate men from other counties coming here and trying to make our people mad at each other and slandering their good names. We have good people. There are good people for Chandler who do not like this method.

As a highly employed engineer I can say to you truthfully there has not been a new man put on the engineering or maintenance department of highways in Morgan county since this campaign started.

There are actually two men less in Morgan county coming here a year ago. And the bids of road jobs by the state have been to the lowest and best bidders. They try to make fun of you because there has been roads built to your home and that you are selling your good roads. I am sorry to think you are that sort of people. You want roads because they help our country and everybody in it.

The roads have been built because you are entitled to them and I hope you will continue to get more roads and better roads. I sincerely believe that Bert Combs will help us to get more roads and better roads.

Yours very truly,

Lacy Creek 4-H Club Visits Carter Caves

Thirty-seven people enjoyed an all-day picnic July 31 at Carter Caves State Park sponsored by the Lacy Creek 4-H Club. Picnic July 31 at Carter Caves State Park sponsored by the Lacy Creek 4-H Club. Picnic lunches, including lots of lemonade, ice cream, and potato chips, furnished by the club, were eaten on the picnic grounds amid an enormous number of other picnickers.

The afternoon was spent touring the caves and the park area. The main attraction seemed to be the natural air-conditioning entrance to Bat Cave. A steady breeze, so chilly it seems to be blowing over a glacier, greets one at least 50 feet from the cave mouth. The breath can be seen on a frosty morning and, on leaving, eye glasses fog up like entering a warm room in winter time.

The cars and trucks of Kermit Lewis, Manford Williams, Victor Conley, Sewell Hamilton, Denzil Pack, Gerald Tyree and William Potter, hauled the picnic supplies. The club members express appreciation to them for their services.

The Carter Caves State Park was recently dedicated by Gov. Lawrence Wetherby. The park was made a State Park by Gov. Wetherby and has been improved and expanded for the enjoyment of all groups and visitors, and especially Eastern Kentuckians. The park has been visited by many 4-H club members.

The 4-H leaders were glad that the total club membership was present. Making up the group were Edna Lewis, Kermit Lewis, Billy Pelfrey, Samuel Nickell, Hattie Pack, Victor Conley, Anna Conley, Denzil Pack, Brenda Pelfrey, Kern Lewis, Judy McElroy, Opal Elam, Judy McGinn, Aggie Conley, Janis Lewis, Paul Lewis, Bavis Burkhardt, Sewell Hamilton, Orpha Hamilton, Shirley Patrick, Kennel Lewis, Jewel Lewis, Joyce Lewis, Paula Hamilton, Tommie Brooks, Jr., Manford Williams, Flossie Williams, Kathy Cochran, Gerald Tyree, Elsie Tyree, Maxine Tyree, S. ## LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

MY IMPRESSION OF THE ELECTION

The Courier—
In these hot humid days of August just a few days prior to the primary election to decide the Democratic candidate for Governor of Kentucky, we are well aware of the fact that the campaign of "Happy Chandler" versus Bert Combs is hot as well. There has been much activity and talk from supporters of both sides. There has been much electioneering for both candidates.

It is the duty of every voter to view the record and claims of support, and to choose fairly without consideration of personal gain to make a choice between the candidates. This choice should be made in view of what will be best for the majority of the citizens of Kentucky. It is important to each citizen to get the right vote. The statement of "The price of liberty is eternal vigilance" is as true today as it was when the statement was made.

We have tried to emphasize the importance of continually watching and protecting our Democratic ideals. However, there is one thing that is more important. That is a man's relationship to God. I have reference to the one true and living God. As we view the strong desire and determination of many people to get their man elected, it makes my heart ache that so few of these people are willing to carry the work of Jesus Christ in the world. Yet they are willing to use their all to get their man elected. Think of how it makes God's heart ache that men love personal gain and political aspirations more than his cause. There are many who claim the name of Christ and help conduct political campaigns with their influence and power. Yet could it be that these same people are not courageous enough to work for God? God's Word says, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." The Great commandment says, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind, soul and strength." The true God is a jealous God and he demands first place.

The call of God in this hour is not for a reformation but for a transformation. "Except you be born again, ye cannot see the Kingdom of Heaven. Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish." John 3:3.
God's Word says, "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus Christ and believe in thine heart that God has raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. And who so ever believeth is not ashamed."

This was the fourth annual reunion to be held in Ohio. Most of those attending were formerly from Morgan county.

SIX ARE BAPTIZED
Rev. Kelly McGraw of Ashland conducted a two weeks revival at the Grassy Creek church Sunday. Six were baptized Sunday afternoon after church services.

STATEMENT BY BERT T. COMBS ON TAX ISSUES

(ABOUT 1.1955)

The greatest misrepresentation being shouted about in the closing days of this campaign is a claim that I stand for higher taxes and higher spending while my opponent is for lower taxes and lower spending.

The full record of what has been said during this campaign reveals that the opposite actually is the truth.

If the services which I have promised can be provided within the existing tax framework, I would be the last person ever to recommend that any additional revenue should be found.

If it becomes necessary to make some adjustments in our existing tax structure then those of our citizens who are carrying too heavy a tax burden now can expect some relief. I also want to make it crystal clear that I would never under any circumstances advocate any tax upon the basic necessities such as food and rent of the working man.

I was raised in a poor family in a poor county and a dollar has always looked as big as a buggy wheel to me.

There is nothing in my personal record or official record to indicate that I would spend one cent more of the taxpayers' money than is absolutely necessary.

I now pledge that I will be a thrifty, frugal and saving Governor and will stretch the taxpayers' dollar to the very limit. My opponent is committed to new state spending programs that would cost $45,000,000 or more a year.

Let me be specific. Here is the estimated cost of the new programs to which my opponent has committed himself during this campaign:

Minimum Foundation Program for Education—$20,000,000.
New state medical school at Lexington—$20,000,000.
Retirement plan for state employees—$1,550,000.
State medical care for indigents—$1,250,000.
Additional funds for teacher retirement—$600,000.
Agricuture research—$200,000.
Agricultural research and marketing—$500,000.

In addition my opponent has promised additional spending without naming specific funds for the mental hospitals, the TB hospitals, loans to medical students, new buildings, expansion of the state parks, and has even suggested that he might give the veterans a bonus.

If he did all of this, his program of increased spending would run far more than $45,000,000 to which he is committed specifically.

I am committed to finance the Minimum Foundation Program for education, for increased funds for the mental health program, for the teacher retirement system, for a retirement system for state employees, and for general improvements in other state services only if state revenues will be adequate to support them.

Thus, my opponent is committed to twice as much in increased state spending as I am. The difference on the issue of spending is that I have been completely frank with you about it, and he has been dodging around like a bull that doesn't want to be cornered.

Signed—

Lawn and Main street. Scores were in courthouse offices at his back listening. Approximately a third of the large crowd here were women.

Speaking in the familiar nasal twang of the hills, Judge Combs said at the outset, "I'm going to win by 75,000. I wouldn't want the people of Eastern Kentucky to get on a lost cause with me. I didn't resign from the court of Appeals to be a puppet governor. I resigned the $12,000-a-year judgeship for one reason—because I saw an opportunity to do something for the people of Kentucky, and particularly the people of my own Eastern Kentucky hills, and for the school children of my state."

"I promise you that when I'm elected the first thing in the program I'm going to inaugurate is to put the Foundation Program for Education into effect."

"I invite you folks to come to Frankfort and we'll talk over what you need. I talk your language, and I've been around new grounds as much as anyone here of my age and have worked for 50c a day. We'll talk over your needs. But I tell you what I will do: I will be what I think is best for you. It won't be what's best to get to the Senate or to a baseball job." This was when he got his first applause.

Declaring that Chandler had deserted the rooster and was carrying a pet monkey around with him, Combs said his opponent campaigned 20 years ago with the rooster as symbol of the Democratic party. But now he uses a pet monkey at his speaking. "I'll tell you why he's got the monkey. He knows he hasn't been faithful to the rooster," Combs said, referring to Chandler's bolting party nominees in 1947 and his support of the Dixiecrat candidates when Truman and Barkley were running for president and vice president in 1948.

"My opponent," Combs said, "tells you about dictatorship—and in the same breath he tells you who to vote for in the other state races. He's got a full slate, and furthermore, he tells you he's going to retire Senator Clements as that dictatorship," Combs asked.

"And my opponent says he wants to return government to the people. What he means is he wants to return it to Chandler people. But I say to you this state is big enough for the Combs people, the Chandler people, the Denny people, the Clay people, and even the Dixiecrats."

At this point Combs drew considerable applause when he said, "What we need is tolerance, good will and cooperative effort." Then he declared the opposition is conducting a campaign of hate and enmity in every county.

"This," he said, "is dividing the people, destroying the spirit of cooperation in counties, in communities and creating hard feelings and bitterness between neighbors and families. We need tolerance, good will and constructive statesmanship and constructive programs."

"My opponent is sowing turmoil and confusion. And it will last for years. That's his program. He will take you back to 1938" (this was the year of the heated campaign waged by Chandler against Senator Barkley).

"I'll give you a fair deal. My campaign is based on tolerance and good will, and my opponent's on vilification. There isn't a county in the state where he hasn't attacked someone. He became governor over the broken body of Ruby Laffoon. Everyone who has crossed him he has sought to destroy. I say he just wants to get revenge on everyone who has been in public life in Kentucky in 20 years."

Combs twitted his opponent because of his many promises. "Why, they ought to organize a Happy Promise Club in every county I bet every job in Morgan county has been promised four or five times. He couldn't fulfill the promise 20 years ago. I'd rather lose than to go out of office with a record of broken promises," Combs declared.

Declaring that he was against the old age lien law, Combs told his Morgan audience, "I'll go as far as I can to get rid of it. Then he declared that the lien law was passed in the first place by Chandler in 1936. And two years later when the Legislature wanted to repeal it, Chandler said 'no'."

"My opponent doesn't want to help you. When he spoke in Lexington, he tried to get money out of the race track people by telling them he would repeal the pari-mutual race track betting tax at Keeneland. I mean to give you some tax relief when I'm governor, but it won't be on race track betting. I'll give it to the farmers and working people not to race tracks and betters."

Combs promised he would repeal the 1-cent-per-package anti-tobacco tax placed on tobacco at the last session of the Kentucky General Assembly.

"Tobacco is Kentucky's chief money crop and I'm going to take care of the tobacco farmer whenever I can," he said.

"In my book, the tobacco farmer is far more deserving of tax relief than the man who bets his money at Keeneland Race Track in Lexington."

Combs outlined in his speech here a definite program for war veterans. In addition to pledging enactment of a law giving 10% preference to veterans in examinations for state jobs, Combs said, "I will recommend to the Legislature that veteran's benefits be extended to veterans of the Korean war and that orphans of all veterans be given free tuition at the state university and colleges.

Combs showed the crowd an unsigned handbill which he said the opposition is circulating against him in Eastern Kentucky. It shows a picture of a paralyzed miner and blames Combs for his failure to win his compensation case. Then Combs showed a sworn statement made by the paralyzed miner in which he stated he had been paid the full amount of the compensation. And he further stated the pamphlet being circulated against Combs is "false and untrue, and I want to repudiate it as false and that it is being circulated without my knowledge and consent." Combs was serving in the South Pacific theatre of war at the time in question. "This is a sample of the malicious falsehoods my opposition is resorting to," Combs said.

Then he said, "I'm good enough for Senator Barkley, and good enough for the majority of Kentucky's Democratic Congressmen. They're supporting me."

"I think I have a right to come home and say to my home people, 'Don't vote against me because you are mad at someone else.' I don't believe there are three people in Morgan county who would say they are against me alone. If I win by 100,000 in the state but lose this district where my people have lived and died I'd still be a disgraced man," he said.

"I'll make you an honest hard-working governor. I have never been engaged in the liquor business. We haven't had a chance to elect a Democrat governor from Eastern Kentucky for 40 years," Combs said.

1,800 HEAR BROWN SPEAK FOR COMBS IN GOVERNOR RACE

SANDY HOOK, Ky., Aug. 2.—Bert T. Combs has a constructive program for continued progress in Kentucky, a program for better schools, for better roads and for an expanded public assistance program that will give assistance to handicapped and disabled persons as well as increasing the aid to dependent children and the aged, John Y. Brown told Elliott voters in a campaign address at the court house square in Sandy Hook on Monday morning.

Brown, former Congressman and former leader of the House, spoke to a crowd of approximately 1,800. He substituted for Governor Wetherby who was unable to fill his engagement because of conferences at the capital.

Brown urged Elliott Democrats to make their choice between a program that "takes you back to 1935 and the other that takes you forward with continued progress."

He declared Judge Combs was a true Kentuckian and loyal Democrat and that Chandler, Combs' opponent for Governor, had opposed Franklin D. Roosevelt's Fair Deal program and had "bolted every Democratic nominee in Kentucky except when Chandler named that nominee."

"At the outset, Brown said, 'I bring you people of the mountains news from the people of the First district in Western Kentucky. They're going to vote for a true Democrat—Bert Combs.'"

In conclusion he said, "Next Saturday when Kentucky Democrats choose their nominee, the people of Kentucky will lift up their eyes to the mountains and signify their desire to go forward with Bert Combs and not backward with Chandler."

"At the outset, Brown said, 'I bring you people of the mountains news from the people of the First district in Western Kentucky. They're going to vote for a true Democrat—Bert Combs.'"

"That's what Happy was doing in World War II while Bert Combs was fighting in the South Pacific to preserve democracy," Brown told his audience.

"When some of Happy's friends from Clark county went to Washington to counsel him against this type of conduct, Happy is reported to have told them, 'I don't know whether it's right or wrong, but suppose it turns out wrong to send troops to Europe, it might elect me President,'" said Brown.

Brown said Chandler helped elect Willis, a Republican as governor in 1944. "He bolted me in 1936 in the race for the Senate, and in 1940 when Truman and Barkley were nominees for President and Vice President, he openly supported the Dixiecrats," Brown declared.

Brown was introduced by Judge John A. Keck who spoke briefly and told fellow Elliott countians Chandler's war record and Happy's statements about the north-south toll road as deliberate falsehoods to fool the people.

Judge Keck said that Chandler was in the Student Training Corps at Transylvania during World War I and never left the campus. During World War II he was in the Senate and spent week ends back at Versailles following in his swimming pool with his whiskey contract in his pocket. Bert Combs was in the South Pacific fighting for democracy as an enlisted man, Keck said.

Denying Chandler's repeated statements that the state is spending more tax money to build one mile of the toll road than is spent in any county, Judge Keck declared the toll road is being built entirely by money from revenue bonds and that the road is not costing the taxpayers one penny. The people who use the toll road pay the bonds. "If you don't ride on the toll road, it will never cost you a penny," Judge Keck said. Keck was highway commissioner when the toll road was set up.

Strawberry short cake was served to 300 persons who attended a strawberry show in Johnson county.

EDWIN E. FRESHNEY of Covington, past grand master of the Kentucky Grand Lodge, visited Morgan county Tuesday in the interest of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State. He served as Grand Master in 1950-51.

the only Governor who ever called soldiers out to break a strike. Out of ten votes on labor legislation during his term as Senator, Chandler voted nine times against labor," Brown said.

"And while he was Senator, Chandler connived with every reactionary group in the nation to try to destroy Roosevelt's program. Happy never had a kind word for Roosevelt, but always referred to him as that man in the White House," Brown added.

Brown quoted from the book, "Inside U.S.A." by John Gunther, and read, "Chandler while Senator took as strong an anti-administration stand as he dared. In 1943 he urged in a speech that the war be called off, and the New York Herald-Tribune branded him 'A Wrecker.'"

"That's what Happy was doing in World War II while Bert Combs was fighting in the South Pacific to preserve democracy," Brown told his audience.

Morgan's 2 Road Construction Firms Equal To Two Small Factories Here

Morgan's two road construction companies, which employ several local men and pay hundreds of thousands of dollars in salaries annually, are equal to two small factories in Morgan county.

The Kentucky Road Oiling Company (Ruth Bros.) of West Liberty has built 12 roads in Morgan county during the past 12 years at a cost of $1,093,343, most of which has been paid out for labor, materials and machinery.

In addition, Ruth Bros. has built many roads in nearby counties and scores of Morgan county people have been employed from these jobs. Ruth Bros. employ between 75 and 100 men and most of them are Morgan countians. They pay prevailing wage rates for both skilled and unskilled men and this employment of Morgan workers brings in several hundred thousand dollars a year to Morgan county families.

Also, their quarry and hot-mix plant near Wrigley employs an average of 20 men whose pay exceeds $36,000 a year. There are 20 or more trucks hauling stone and the payroll of the drivers runs into a large figure also.

The Licking River Limestone Company of West Liberty also operates a number of road jobs and a quarry employing an average of 115 workers, most of whom are Morgan county men. The wage rate varies from $1 for unskilled workers to $3 an hour for skilled men, and this brings in several hundred thousand dollars a year to Morgan families.

Many different companies in the past have helped build highways in Morgan, some of them from Winchester, Lexington and various other places. These outside companies have employed some local labor but most of their workers, particularly skilled men, were from other counties.

The rural highway development program not only has aided Morgan county by providing surfaced roads into every community of this county, but a large portion of the money paid for constructing the highways has been spent for Morgan county labor by the two local construction companies.

Employment of 190 men by the two local companies is equal to the payroll from two small factories.

Fred Blackstone Redwine Is Only Eastern Kentuckian That Seeks Attorney General Office

Only one of the Democratic candidates for the Attorney Generalship can claim to be a "mountaineer" in this year's primary election.

Fred B. Redwine, who hails from Sandy Hook, and is now assistant Commonwealth Attorney of Jefferson county, is the only one of a field of six who originated from a point east of the center of the Blue Grass region.

Redwine, native Elliott County, has family ties that extend throughout several Eastern Kentucky counties—Elliott, Boyd, Greenup, Carter, Morgan, Lawrence, Magoffin, Rowan and Breathitt—and include persons who have been active politically. A great-uncle, Judge David B. Redwine, Jackson, was chairman of the Music Hall Convention in Louisville which nominated William Gobel for Governor.

The candidate's grandfather, Judge M. M. Redwine, Sandy Hook, was successively Commonwealth Attorney, member of the House of Representatives, Circuit Judge and County Attorney. Judge Redwine was the brother of Judge D. B. Redwine and Dr. John Redwine of Jackson, Ky.

His father, too, Virgil H. Redwine, Sandy Hook, former member of the General Assembly, has served as County Attorney several terms—a post he is now filling.

Fred's family is rooted deep in Elliott and surrounding counties. His mother was Miss Effie Sparks, daughter of Jim Sparks and the granddaughter of Joel D. and Eliza Robinson Sparks. His paternal grandmother was Miss Belle Greene, member of another pioneer Elliott County family.

Fred Redwine attended public schools in Elliott County and Hazel Green Academy, and later graduated from the University of Kentucky law school.

His capacity as a lawyer has been demonstrated by repeated assignments to positions of importance, in all of which he has served acceptably. In 1949 he was named Secretary of the Workmen's Compensation Board, and filled that position for three years until he was offered appointment as Assistant Commonwealth Attorney of Jefferson county, a post he now occupies.

Capable and imbued with a thorough knowledge of the law, and its practical application, Redwine is recognized in the legal profession as one "fitted for the task" of the State's highest legal officer.

He married the former True Culbertson from Pike County.

He has long been active in Democratic party affairs, serving as a precinct worker in all elections. He also belongs to the Young Democratic Club, Moose Green Club, Methodist Church and is a Scottish Rite Mason. (Political Advertisement)

FLORRESS (By Nora Easterling)

Aug. 3—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hackney have moved from the Dan Lemaster farm to the Buford Pack farm on the head of Lacey Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lemaster have moved from U. G. Easterling's home to their farm on Contrary Fork vacated by the Hackneys.

Stanley Haney and Arlie Nickell are employed here in Honey-moon Hollar by J. C. Conley. They cut bushes and weeds last week and are building a porch to Conley's house today.

Yours Truly visited relatives on Cow Branch Sunday.

Elder Walter Easterling attended church at Cow Branch last Sunday.

Elder Chas. Frederick of Cottage took part in the church services at Lacey Creek Sunday.

Raymond Williams of Fairborn, Ohio, came after his daughter Peggy Sue.

I wish to thank Mrs. Anna Adkins and Mrs. Harlan Ferguson for their nice remarks about Florress new. I didn't know Mrs. Adkins was Missouri Mynhies's sister, but thought you were related.

A lot of Florress people attended the 4-11 Club meeting Sunday.

Mary Lou Conley, age 4, and Billy, age 3, recently caught a catfish 14 inches long. They were assisted by their dad, James C. Conley.

Winfred Lovlace and family of Germantown, O., visited T. C. Lovlace this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ward of Pekin, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ward of 1234 and 567, and Mrs. H. H. Dixon visited Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Henry Sunday. We are glad to see Orville improving.

Curtis Henry attended the stock sales at Flemingsburg Saturday.

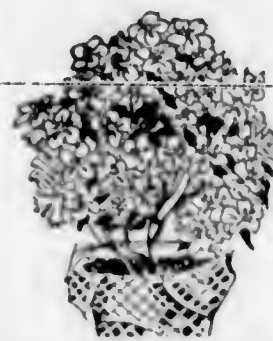

Ray Cox and Ova Cox and son Darrell and the writer went to Neon Tuesday to visit our sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Robinson and our mother, Mrs. Cora Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bodoli and children of Altoona, Pa. are visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Lardner this week.

CHANDLER'S BIG LIE TECHNIQUE

The Influence Peddling Egomaniac Is At It Again!

Chandler has demonstrated he has little regard for the truth (even when properly informed) and he prefers to continue to use the BIG LIE TECHNIQUE in this campaign just as he has in campaigns of the past.

HERE IS AN EXAMPLE OF THE BIG LIE TECHNIQUE:

In Louisville on June 28th he again stated that the rug on the floor of the Governor's Office cost $20,000.00. The Stassel Company of Louisville, the firm that furnished the rug had previously stated that the carpeting in Governor Wetherby's Office and two adjoining rooms cost only $2,720. In Princeton a newspaper reporter asked Chandler why he continued to lie about the cost of the rug when he knew he was not telling the truth. CHANDLER REPLIED, "I KNOW BETTER BUT THE CROWD EATS IT UP."

Adolph Hitler used the BIG LIE TECHNIQUE by telling such complete untruths that people believed him because they were unwilling to think that any man could have the nerve to tell such lies.

Chandler has also employed the big lie technique on the cost of the air conditioning in the Capitol, the sales tax, the minimum foundation, lien law, and hundreds of other issues during this campaign. And all of the time he would have you believe that he is sincerely interested in the betterment of Kentucky.

As a member of the 1954 Legislature from the Bourbon-Nicholas District, Clay was voted by the news reporters who covered the session one of the two "most valuable members of the House from a public standpoint."

Clay Voted FOR:

- (1) All legislation for the betterment of the school system, including the Minimum Foundation Plan;
- (2) Empowering eight Northern Kentucky cities to acquire their own water-work system;
- (3) Repeal of the law giving the State a lien upon the property of old people under the Old Age Assistance program;
- (4) The repeal of the antiquated fee system whereby prosecuting attorneys receive a part of the fines imposed.

Clay Voted AGAINST:

- (1) Increase of the State Tax on cigarettes;
- (2) Highway Authority Act which would have allowed a politically appointed commission to saddle the State with an unlimited amount of road bonds without a vote of the people. (This Act has since been ruled unconstitutional by the Courts).

FUNERAL FINANCING

TO THE PUBLIC

You no longer need to borrow money for cash funeral expense. We are now in position to finance your funerals. No matter how expensive or how low the funeral cost, it will suit your needs.

If you are a farmer, we can give to you a single payment Farmer's Plan, payable in 3, 6, 9 or 12 months when your tobacco crop is sold.

If you have a monthly income, we can offer you a 12, 15 or 18 months plan to pay monthly. Or we can give you a single payment plan to be paid when an estate has to be sold for funeral bills of old age pensioners.

Many are now using this plan and find it to be helpful and non-burdensome. In case of death of persons liable for the funeral expense, the balance is automatically paid up and leaves no burdens on those of the family that remain.

For further details on financing funerals, see—

the Military Service Record of BERT COMBS

Honest and capable service was rendered his country by Bert Combs because in time of war he thought he was needed, not just to create a record for the future. Bert Combs volunteered as a private in World War II without fanfare offering himself sincerely to the service of his country.

- 1 He was eight years old at the close of World War I.
- 2 Bert Combs volunteered as a private in World War II and served 15 months as an enlisted man.
- 3 He was selected from the ranks as an officer candidate and, after special training, was commissioned a second lieutenant.
- 4 Was promoted to first lieutenant in less than a year.
- 5 Assigned to serve as assistant judge advocate and later as judge advocate.
- 6 Chief of Investigating Section of War-Crimes Department in Philippines.
- 7 During his service in the Philippines he was awarded the Bronze Star Medal and was decorated by the Philippine Government for his outstanding service.
- 8 Bert Combs takes an active part in veterans' affairs as a civilian. With four other overseas vets he incorporated in September, 1947, "Floyd County Overseas Veterans, Inc.", a non-profit organization. He did all of the legal work of this organization and later the same year he was an incorporator and charter member of "Walter Karr Bowling Post (VEW) 5839". Bert Combs is a member in good standing of the Prestonsburg American Legion Post and the Legion's 40 and B.

the Military Service Record of A. B. "HAPPY" CHANDLER

The kind of service given by Chandler in the time of war has been much like his record in general: a sequence of false claims and broken promises.

- 1 Chandler was 13 at the beginning of World War I.
- 2 When 20 years old he joined the Student Training Army on the campus of Transylvania College. Served a total of 2 1/2 months.
- 3 At the onset of World War II Chandler was 43 years of age and a member of the United States Senate.
- 4 In the preceding campaign for nomination he repeatedly promised to offer himself for military service should he ever be compelled to vote for a declaration of war. How he kept his promise was reflected in a Chandler speech reported in the July 23, 1952, Courier-Journal: "I had promised my people, however, that whenever I voted for war I would immediately offer my services to the Army of the United States. I have held a Captain's commission in the reserve corps for many years and as soon as I cast my vote I went in the Senate cloakroom and called the White House and volunteered for service in the army. The President asked that I not take active duty and he and General Marshall and the Secretary of War all requested that in view of the importance of my membership on the Senate Military Affairs Committee and in view of my helpfulness to the President as a member of that committee, that they preferred that I remain in the Senate."
- 5 On October 30, 1945, when the temperature of the "cold war" with Russia was rapidly rising and the war clouds of Korea were beginning to appear on the horizon, Chandler terminated his "helpfulness" to the president and his country by resigning the Senate, permitting himself to be succeeded by a Republican appointee, to accept a $50,000 a year job.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

Third Kentucky District

I appreciate the thousands of good solid people who supported me in my 1952 race for Congress of the Eighth District, and if you will do the same job for me this time, we will be a sure winner.

This Railroad District comprises forty-four counties. This is a very important office and every voter should not forget to vote in this race, as it means much to you.

The duties of the Commissioners are to approve or disapprove services of all the railroads of this state, and to see that the public gets a fair deal. If you people honor me with this office, I promise you that I will not be a rubber-stamp; that all my decisions will be based on justice and fairness for all concerned.

I will be just as interested in making you a good servant as I am in securing your support. When we put capable men in office we have hope. A state is as progressive as its management. I regret it will be impossible for me to meet all voters in person.

Your vote and influence will be appreciated. Thanks,
W. D. "BILL" SCALP, Barboursville, Ky.

BUILDING NEW LOGVILLE CHURCH

LOGVILLE, Ky., July 26—(By Ruby Elam)—The old Regular Baptists are getting along fine in the construction of their new church. This church is being built on the property of Russell Kennard. They are using concrete blocks and the labor is donated. They hope to have it almost finished so the association which meets the 3rd week end in August can be held at that place.

The past week end the communion service was held at the Trace Fork school house with a large crowd in attendance.

Among those who have visited in our community the past two weeks were Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Patton, daughter Capt. and her husband and children; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kennard and family and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Perkins and family from Michigan; and Mrs. Frank McDonald of Syracuse, Ind.; Mrs. Lydia Ann Hammond of Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Downey and family and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Williams and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ova Jenkins and son of Springfield, O.

Miss Helen Stapleton of Lebanon, O., spent her week's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stapleton. Other guests last week were Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Stapleton of Paintsville, Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Nickell and sons of Florriss.

Kash Allen who has been in a veterans hospital in Huntington was brought back here to the home of his in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Flem Nickell, for a few days before moving to West Liberty.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stapleton went to Lebanon, O., one day last week and spent the night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manford France and brought their daughter Helen home to stay a while as her doctor requested she quit work and rest a while.

Jimmy Elam moved Mr. and Mrs. Ted Blair to Wakefield, O., Sunday.

Joe Phillips came Saturday to get his wife, Laura Susan, who spent the past week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Elam. They returned to their home at Indianapolis, Ind., Sunday.

Eugene Howard of Springfield came Saturday night and took back with him Mrs. Mary Williams and Mrs. Loula Adkins for a visit with the Howards and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adkins.
